TRADEMARK TRIAL AND APPEAL BOARD

RE: Applicant: Spirits of New Merced, LLC

Serial No.: 78/978475
Mark: Yosemite Brewing Company
Class: 32, Beer

NOTICE OF APPEAL

Applicant hereby appeals to the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board from the decision of the Trademark Examining Attorney refusing registration in the above-mentioned matter. Applicant requests relief in the form of registration of the mark "Yosemite Brewing Company" on the Principal Register, or alternatively upon refusal, registration of the mark "Yosemite Brewing Company" on the Supplemental Register.

Please also note that Applicant has also submitted new evidence, accompanied by a Request for Reconsideration, to the Trademark Examining Attorney.

RE: Applicant: Spirits of New Merced, LLC

Serial No.: 78/978475
Mark: Yosemite Brewing Company
Class: 32, Beer

Serial No.: 78/756457
Mark: Yosemite Brewing Company
Class: 40, Brewing Services

Dear Ms. Kloiber:

Attached hereto are submissions of additional evidence for your consideration, in regard to the aforementioned trademark applications. In addition, please accept this correspondence as a Request for Reconsideration of the above mark for registration on the Principal Register. A Notice of Appeal of Final Refusal is also being filed, should the Request for Reconsideration be denied.

We would like to clarify the purposes of our communications on May 29 and May 30, which were mistakenly classified as a Request for Reconsideration. We divided our previous application for Yosemite Brewing Company into two separate applications for Classes 32 and 40, beer and brewing services respectively. You correctly stated that we did not address the geographic issues in those communications, as our only purpose was to handle the bifurcation of the applications and Statements of Use first, before submitting our evidence. No Request for Reconsideration had been filed. Please accept this correspondence as constituting our Request for Reconsideration, together with the attached evidence, in the form of a city search for "Yosemite," a language translation, and over 40 prior registrations in support of our arguments.

With regard to the prior registrations, these other marks are all arguably geographically descriptive of goods and/or services, yet they were apparently found not to be principally so. The other registrations are not 2(f) registrations, and are on the Principal Register. In many cases, these marks are also for similar products and services as to the Applicant's products and services. The overwhelming majority are for brewing companies. Furthermore, these marks are standard word, character, or typed marks, and mostly not design or "design plus words" marks. In addition to the registration certificates for each mark, the geographic areas are explained in an attached page from the Bartleby's encyclopedia and/or a gazetteer. We have also attached a search from the United States Postal Service's website detailing a search for the city of "Yosemite" or any geographic region for "Yosemite," with the only result being that no such region was found, and instead, pointing to the Yosemite National Park. Finally, with regard to the language translation, please accept the attached article detailing the origin of the word Yosemite, and its various disputed meanings in Native American dialects.

We are appealing our trademarks for a line of beer production services for a brewpub in Merced, California. A brewpub is a restaurant which brews its own beer. The beer is primarily consumed in the restaurant itself. The brewpub does not bottle, can, or distribute its beers. In making this Request for Reconsideration, first we assert that there are many meanings to the word "Yosemite," and that its primary significance is not geographic. There is no place named "Yosemite" by itself. There is no Yosemite City or Yosemite County. There is a "Yosemite National Park," which is located approximately 80 miles away from the brewpub. We are not attempting to trademark the name "Yosemite National Park Brewing Company." The word "Yosemite" has various meanings in local Native American languages, such as "those who kill," "band of killers," and "grizzly bear." It is also the name of a popular cartoon character, "Yosemite Sam." The term "Yosemite" has been trademarked before for various goods and services, including past registered trademarks for both "Yosemite Beer" and "Yosemite Brewing Company."

We assert that consumers are not likely to make a goods/place association with Yosemite National Park. The public would not likely be confused into believing that Yosemite Brewing Company (IC 32) beer is brewed, distributed or even consumed in Yosemite National Park, as alcoholic beverages are prohibited in the Park. Furthermore, the public would not likely think that Yosemite Brewing Company, a commercial brewery who manufactures beer for others (IC 40) is located within the National Park. Yosemite National Park has no industry relating to beer, or even any commercial or manufacturing activities generally. Thus, there is minimal likelihood that consumers would be confused with either the origin of the beer or the brewery services.

The analysis for the two trademark applications need not be identical, and need not come to the same conclusion. While we contend that both marks should be eligible for registration on the Principal Registry, our position is that, at the very least, the applicant should be permitted to register its trademark Yosemite Brewing Company for brewing services (IC 40) on the Principal Registry.

Further, our non-exhaustive search for prior registrations have turned up a plethora of evidence of the PTO granting registrations for many companies, many of which for brewing companies using a geographic term in their trademark. Names such as "Chesapeake Bay Brewing Company" or "Great Lakes Brewing Company" identify a specific geographic region, and Principal Register-trademarks for these names have been granted without any sign of 2(f) statements. These names use geographic terms in their entirety, and would be analogous to a trademark such as "Yosemite National Park Brewing Company," for which we are not attempting to apply. The Applicant certainly understands PTO's valid public policy intent to preventing such names from being granted. However, the term "Yosemite" by itself has no particular meaning, as evident by the numerous registrations that also use the term "Yosemite" in their trademark, such as "Yosemite Gold" or "Yosemite Animal Crackers." We do not know if the PTO has any valid basis for distinguishing these other trademarks from ours, or if the law and review standards are being equally and fairly applied to us when compared to the numerous issued trademarks and our current application.

Looking at the test for geographic descriptiveness in TMEP §1210.01(a), a prima facie case for refusal to register a mark requires that: 1. the primary significance of a mark be geographic, 2. the goods or services originate in the place identified in the mark, and (emphasis added) 3. purchasers would be likely to make a goods/place or services/place association. It has not been shown that the primary significance of "Yosemite," by itself, is geographic. It has not been shown that purchasers would be likely to believe that "Yosemite Brewing Company" uses ingredients from or conducts business in a National Park that prohibits any sort of commercial activity. The only point of this three-prong test that has even slightly been established is the second, being that the brewpub is located approximately 80 miles away from the National Park. But, "Yosemite" by itself does not identify the Park, as stated earlier. Further, even if that nexus was established, precedent does not state at which point do goods or services allegedly originate in the place identified, or at how far of a distance they must be before the mark is deemed either descriptive or misdescriptive.

We therefore request that the two applications be approved for publication on the Principal Registry.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Thank you.

Respectfully submitted,

Kenneth A. Vogel, Esq.

Origin of the Word Yosemite

by Daniel E. Anderson

(December 2004; last revised July 2005)

Gresham's Law of information: Bad information drives out good. No matter how long ago a correction for a particular error may have appeared in print or online, it never seems to catch up with the ever-widening distribution of the error.

What does Yosemite mean?

Yohhe'meti (Southern Miwok) or Yos.s.e'meti (Central Miwok) originally referred to the Indian tribe that lived in Yosemite Valley. Yosemite means literally "those who kill" (Yos, "to kill," the modifier e, "one who," and the plural suffix -meti). It was used by the surrounding Miwok tribes. The Yosemite people were referred to as killers by these surrounding tribes, who feared them. The Yosemite tribe, led by Chief Tenaya, were composed of renegades from multiple tribes, including Mono Paiute from the eastern Sierra. The Paiute were traditional enemies of the more-peaceful Miwok people.

The Miwok called Yosemite Ahwahnee or "mouth," because the valley walls resembled a gaping bear's mouth.

What did the Yosemite People call the Yosemite Valley?

The Yosemite people called Yosemite Valley Awooni or Owwo for (gaping) "mouth," which referred to the appearance of the Yosemite Valley walls from the the village of Ahwahnee, which was located on the valley floor. The spelling used by Bunnell was "Ahwahne" and later "Ahwahnee." The Yosemite people called themselves as Ah-wah-ne-chee, or "dwellers of Ahwahnee." Ahwahnee originally referred to the largest and most powerful Indian village in the valley (located 1/2 mile west of Yosemite Village and south of Northside Drive), but the word also came to mean the entire valley.

When asked, Chief Tenaya, tried to explain the meaning of “Ahwahnee” by using sign language. Tenaya “by the motion of his hands, indicated depth, while trying to illustrate the name, at the same time plucking grass which he held up before me.” Major Savage mistakingly interpreted Ahwahnee to mean “deep grassy valley,” when Tenaya was signing “mouth.”¹

Miwok or Me-wuk (Southern dialect), by the way, is the Miwok word for “people.”

Mr. Bunnell, who named the valley, thought Yosemite meant “Grizzly Bear.” However, this was another mistake in interpretation made by his commander, Major James Savage, who knew the Miwok language but confused Yosemite for ihūmat i or isūmat i, which means “grizzly bear.” Major Savage himself said “he could not readily understand Ten-ie-ya, or the Indian guide, as they appeared to speak a Pai-ute jargon.”²

So why is the Valley called Yosemite and not Ahwahnee?

Yosemite Valley was named by L. H. Bunnell of the Mariposa Battalion in 1851. The Battalion was formed by local miners in the foothills after neighboring tribes, feeling encroached on their lands, raided Savage’s Trading Post, killing several people there at the time. Mr. Bunnell named the valley in honor of the tribe they were about to capture and drive out of their home, Yosemite Valley. Pioneers at the time often disregarded native place names or didn’t know them and used place names of their own making. To quote Mr. Bunnell³:

As I did not take a fancy to any of the names proposed, I remarked that “an American name would be the most appropriate;” that “I could not see any necessity for going to a foreign country for a name for American scenery—the grandest that had ever yet been looked upon. That it would be better to give it an Indian name than to import a strange and inexpressive one; that the name of the tribe who had occupied it, would be more appropriate than any I had heard suggested.” I then proposed “that we give the valley the name of Yo-sem-i-ty, as it was suggestive, euphonious, and certainly American; that by so doing, the name of the tribe of Indians which we met leaving their homes in this valley, perhaps never to return, would be perpetuated.” . . . upon a viva voce vote being taken, it was almost unanimously adopted.

It was common practice by European settlers in 18th century United States to either ignore a Indian (Native American) place name and rename it, or, as with Yosemite, to use another Indian word for a place name.

How do you pronounce Yosemite and Ahwahnee?

Yosemite is pronounced yo-SE-mea-tea.

Ahwahnee is pronounced ah-WAA-nee.

Origin of the Place Name Yosemite

The following article explains of the meaning of the word Yosemite in more detail. It is from "Yosemite and Tamalpais," Names (Journal of the American Name Society) 3:3:185-186 (Sept. 1955) by Dr. Madison Scott Beeler, Professor of Linguistics, University of California Berkeley (1910-1989). Dr. Beeler was an authority on California names of Indian origin.

Yosemite and Tamalpais

MADISON S. BEELER

Recent work on a California Indian language belonging to the linguistic stock called Miwok has familiarized me with the literature on the languages of that family, and particularly with the publications of Lucy Freeland de Angulo, who is the authority on the subject. The following two place names derived from Miwok are presented to draw the attention of onomatologists to work which may have escaped their notice.

The name of Yosemite¹ has been connected with the Sierra Miwok word for '(grizzly-)bear' and with a collective noun meaning 'the killers' or 'a band of killers.' In Mrs.[Lucy Shepard] Freeland's "Language of the Sierra Miwok"² 'bear' appears as iš'i·mati (p. 3) and yošé·met·i is defined as 'the Killers' (p. 159). These words, although of course distinct in the native tongue, show a notable degree of similarity in their phonological structure, and a confusion between them, or their being taken as variant forms of a single term is easily understandable on the part of those unfamiliar with the language. That the second, and not the first, is the true etymon is most likely. In the first place, the word for 'bear' lacks the initial y-, and the high central vowel (transcribed i) of its initial syllable was commonly equated by Spanish speakers with their vowel e and by Anglo-Americans either with ü or with u. And secondly, yošé·met·i fits readily into the morphological pattern of Miwok: the suffixation to the verbal root yóš- 'to kill' of the morpheme -e- 'one who, that which, does something' yields the agent noun yošé 'killer,' and this is pluralized by the addition of -met·i, "a pluralizing suffix, probably more or less collective in meaning, used in all dialects" (op. cit., p. 158). The variant yohé·met·i?, proper to the southern or Mariposa dialect of Sierra Miwok, in whose range the famous valley lies, indicates that the word first was heard by white men from the lips of speakers of the more northerly dialects. "This [the form with -š-] is the name which was applied by the neighboring Miwok to the dwellers in Yosemite Valley, who appear to have been (at least in historic times) a band of renegades from various tribes" (op cit. p. 159).

[At this point the article continues about the etymology of Mt. Tamalpais.]

Discusses the origin of the misstold story of Yosemite meaning "some among them are killers" and that "killers" refer to the whites—specifically the Mariposa Battalion. Although it would be an ironic appellation that people would like to believe, as the Mariposa Battalion named Yosemite Valley, it's not true. Yosemite was what the neighboring Miwok called the Yosemite people, whom they feared. Also, Yosemite was in use by the Miwok people before the Mariposa Battalion existed. The misstatement originated in an article by Craig D. Bates, "Names and Meanings for Yosemite Valley," Yosemite Nature Notes, vol. 7, no. 3 (1978). This misstatement has since spread in some popular histories of Yosemite.

One misstatement Ms. Solnit missed was that "Some" does not appear as a morpheme or root of Yosemite. So Yosemite means, simply, "they are killers."

Yosemite Brewing Co.

The Yosemite Brewing Co. was founded in 1995 shortly after founders Frank Munoz and Tolley Gorham began contemplation on how they might make a living that allowed them to live in the beautiful mountain community of Mariposa, just outside of Yosemite National Park. The dynamic duo dismissed several pipe dreams including gold panning because frankly, they seemed like a lot of work.

One monumental evening, while watching snow fall and drinking beer, the two decided to inventory their skill set and concluded that one obvious thing that they were both good at and enjoyed doing was drinking beer. So it was agreed that their new venture should be centered on this staple in their lives. The talk was first of how they could drink beer for a living, but that notion was quickly dismissed due to the fact that there are so many people that are willing to perform the task for free. Next came the idea of selling beer. But whose beer would they sell? It seemed that there were already salesmen for all of the brands of beer available at the time so they decided to make their own beer. Never mind the fact that neither knew anything about beer other than how to open a bottle and drink it. When the name for the beer came into question, the answer was obvious: "Frank and Tolley's Good Beer". It only took another beer or two to realize that the marketing potential for a beer which such a name would probably preclude selling enough to make any money.

The founders settled on the notion of taking advantage of the majestic park they lived so close to (and the some 4 million that visit it each year) and hence the name of the brewery was established. The boys formed a joint venture with the Meadows Ranch Café and both now occupy a large warehouse that effectively serves as a brewery and brewpub. In addition to the two beers featured this month, Yosemite also produces El Capitan Dark, a brown porter.

.. For more information about the brewpub or brewery and tours, call (209)-742-5713 or check out their web site at: <http://www.yosemitedbrewingco.com>. Tolley or Frank can also be reached via email at: Yosemite@best.com

Half Dome Amber

Half Dome is an Amber Ale brewed with a combination of two-row Pale and Caramel malts. The beer is hopped twice during the 90-min. boil, once 30 minutes into the boil with Northern Brewer hops and then again at 60 minutes with Brewer's Gold hops. The Northern Brewer hops are used primarily for their bittering contributions while the Brewer's Gold are used for aroma. A proprietary ale yeast strain is used.

(Statement)

Filice & Perrelli Canning Company, Inc., a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of California, located at Richmond, California, and doing business at 10th and Hall Streets, in the city of Richmond, county of Contra Costa, and State of California, has adopted and used the trade-mark shown in the accompanying drawing, for CANNED FRUITS AND CANNED VEGETABLES, in Class 46, Foods and ingredients of foods, and presents herewith five specimens showing the trade-mark as actually used in connection with such goods, the trade-mark being applied to labels affixed to the goods, and requests that the same be registered in the United States Patent Office on the Principal Register in accordance with the act of July 5, 1946. Applicant is the owner of registrations Nos. 182,348, dated April 8, 1924, and 410,977, dated December 26, 1944.

The trade-mark was first used in 1902 and first used in commerce among the several States which may lawfully be regulated by Congress in 1902.

(Declaration)

Jos. Perrelli, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the secretary-treasurer of Filice & Perrelli Canning Company, Inc., the applicant named in the foregoing statement, that he believes that said corporation is the owner of the trade-mark which is in use in commerce among the several States and that no other person, firm, corporation or association, to the best of his knowledge and belief, has the right to use such trade-mark in commerce which may lawfully be regulated by Congress either in the identical form thereof or in such near resemblance thereto as might be calculated to deceive, that the drawing and description truly represent the trade-mark sought to be registered, that the specimens show the trade-mark as actually used in connection with the goods, and that the facts set forth in the statement are true.

Chesapeake Bay

Chesapeake Bay, inlet of the Atlantic Ocean (3,237 sq mi/8,384 sq km), separating the Delmarva Peninsula from the mainland, E Md. and E Va; c.200 mi/320 km long and 3 mi/4.8 km–30 mi/48 km wide. The bay is the drowned estuary of the Susquehanna R. and is fed by many rivers including the Potomac, Rappahannock, and James. Chesapeake Bay is entered from the Atlantic Ocean through a 12-mi/19-km wide gap bet. capes Henry and Charles, Va. The Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel runs across the mouth of the bay. An important part of the Intracoastal Waterway, the bay is linked with the Delaware R. by the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal. Baltimore, Md., is the largest city and main port on the bay; Norfolk, Va., is an important port and naval base. The bay's uses for commercial fishing (oysters and crabs) and recreation have declined as area development grew. Projects in the 1980s, however, were undertaken to reverse this trend. The Eng. colonist John Smith explored and charted Chesapeake Bay in 1608.

Georgetown, cities, United States

1 Town (1990 pop. 11,414), Scott co., N central Ky., in the bluegrass country; settled 1776, inc. 1790. In a rich agricultural, dairying, and livestock area, Georgetown also has light manufacturing. A huge auto assembly plant is there.

2 City (1990 pop. 9,517), seat of Georgetown co., E S.C., on the Sampit River at its entrance into Winyah Bay, c.15 mi (24 km) from the ocean; inc. 1805. It is a historic port of entry and shipping center. Wire, lumber, and paper are produced, and there is textile printing. Tourism is also a significant industry. The city was founded c.1734 as a shipping point for the plentiful rice and indigo products garnered from nearby plantations. Deepwater facilities were later added to the port. The Church of Prince George dates from the 1740s.

3 Residential section (since 1895) of Washington, D.C., on the Potomac River near the confluence of Rock Creek; settled c.1665, inc. 1789. It was part of the land granted by Maryland in 1790 to the federal government for a national capital; in 1878 it became part of Washington, D.C. Its picturesque old houses and colonial atmosphere lend it charm. Georgetown Univ., with its renowned foreign service school, is there.

KEY BRIDGE

Francis Scott Key Bridge (Washington)

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Francis Scott Key Bridge, or, more commonly, the Key Bridge, is a reinforced concrete arch bridge conveying U.S. Highway 29 traffic across the Potomac River between the Rosslyn section of Arlington County, Virginia, and the Georgetown section of Washington, D.C. Nathan C. Wyeth was the architect for Key Bridge. It was built by the United States Army Corps of Engineers between 1917 and 1923 and was named after Francis Scott Key, author of the Star Spangled Banner. The northern terminus of the bridge is just east of the site of Key's Georgetown home, which was later demolished; that site is now a community park honoring Key.

At its southern (Virginia) terminus, the Key Bridge connects with North Lynn Street and, via that street, with Wilson Boulevard, the George Washington Parkway, Lee Highway (U.S. Route 29), Interstate 66, and State Route 110. At its northern (D.C.) terminus, the bridge connects with M Street, N.W., Canal Road, N.W., and the Whitehurst Freeway, which provides access to K Street downtown. The northbound span has an exit ramp to the eastbound Whitehurst Freeway; however, traffic from the westbound Whitehurst Freeway to the southbound span must use M Street.

The Key Bridge is part of the National Highway System.

Due to the sometimes very bad traffic congestion on the bridge, some locals have jokingly referred to it as the "Car Strangled Spanner," a play on the title of Francis Scott Key's most famous song.

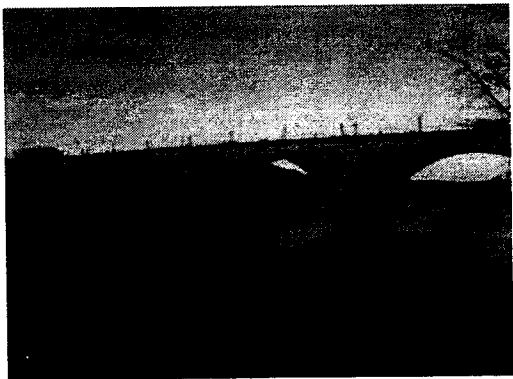

The Key Bridge replaced the Aqueduct Bridge. The Aqueduct Bridge was originally built to carry the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal across the Potomac to connect with the Alexandria Canal. After the Alexandria Canal was abandoned, the bridge was converted into a roadway. The Washington abutment still survives and is located west of the Key Bridge. One pier remains and is located in the river near the Virginia shore.

Another bridge, also called the Francis Scott Key Bridge (and sometimes the Outer Harbor Crossing), crosses the Patapsco River near Baltimore, Maryland.

Great Lakes

group of five freshwater lakes, central North America, creating a natural border between the United States and Canada and forming the largest body of freshwater in the world, with a combined surface area of c.95,000 sq mi (246,050 sq km). From west to east they are Lake Superior, Lake Michigan, Lake Huron, Lake Erie, and Lake Ontario, out of which flows the Saint Lawrence River. The distance from Duluth, Minn., at the western end of Lake Superior, to the outlet of Lake Ontario is 1,160 mi (1,867 km). The international boundary passes approximately through the center of all the lakes except Lake Michigan, which lies entirely within the United States.

The Great Lakes were formed approximately at the end of the Pleistocene period, when the glacier-carved lake basins were filled with meltwater from the retreating ice sheet. The lakes are connected to each other by straits, short rivers, and canals. The height above sea level of the lake surfaces varies from Lake Superior's 602 ft (183 m) to Lake Ontario's 246 ft (75 m); the greatest sudden drop occurs at Niagara Falls (167 ft/51 m) between lakes Erie and Ontario. All the lake bottoms, except that of Lake Erie, extend below sea level.

French traders were the first Europeans to see any of the Great Lakes; Étienne Brulé visited Lake Huron c.1612. In 1614, Brulé and French explorer Samuel de Champlain explored Lake Huron and Lake Ontario. In 1679, French explorer Robert LaSalle sailed from Lake Erie to Lake Michigan. The Great Lakes region, rich in furs, was contested for many years by the French, English, and Americans. The close of the War of 1812 finally ended the struggle for possession of the Great Lakes, and settlement of the region rapidly followed. The opening of the Erie Canal in 1825 accelerated the development of commerce on the Great Lakes.

The opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway in 1959 made the Great Lakes a truly international water body. The Illinois Waterway connects the lakes with the Mississippi River and the Gulf of Mexico; the New York State Canal System (including the Erie Canal) joins the Great Lakes with the Hudson River and the Atlantic Ocean. Shipping on the lakes carries large quantities of iron ore and grain, coal, and petroleum, and manufactured articles from April until December, until ice closes most of the ports and winter storms hinder navigation. The large industrial lakefront cities include Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Gary, Milwaukee, and Chicago. Large concentrations of population and industry along the lakes' shores led to pollution, especially of Lake Erie, but the condition of the lakes has improved since the 1960s. The Great Lakes region, with its national parks and lakeshores, state parks, and many natural and scenic features, has become an important year-round recreation area.

See J. Rousmaniere, ed., The Enduring Great Lakes (1979); C. E. Feltner and J. B. Feltner, Great Lakes Maritime History (1982); S. L. Flader, ed., The Great Lakes Forest (1983). ⁵

Saint Croix, rivers, North America

1 River, 75 mi (121 km) long, rising in the Chiputneticook Lakes and flowing SE to Passamaquoddy Bay, forming part of the U.S.-Canada border; navigable to Calais, Maine. The river is used for power and to float logs downstream. In 1604, French explorer Samuel de Champlain helped establish a colony on St. Croix (Dochet) Island (now an international historic site) near the river's mouth; it was abandoned in 1605. 2 River, 164 mi (264 km) long, rising in the lake district of NW Wis. and flowing generally S to the Mississippi River at Prescott, Wis.; forms part of the Wis.-Minn. line. The Dalles, a scenic gorge, is located in Interstate Park. A hydroelectric plant at St. Croix Falls supplies power to the Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan area.

Superior, Lake

largest freshwater lake in the world, 31,820 sq mi (82,414 sq km), 350 mi (563 km) long and 160 mi (257 km) at its greatest width, bordered on the W by NE Minnesota, on the N and E by Ontario, Canada, and on the S by NW Michigan and NW Wisconsin; largest, highest, and deepest of the Great Lakes, having a surface elevation of 602 ft (183 m) and a maximum depth of 1,302 ft (397 m). Lake Superior drains into Lake Huron through the St. Marys River and receives the waters of many short, swift-flowing streams including the Nipigon, Kaministiquia, St. Louis, and Pigeon rivers. The largest islands are Isle Royale, Isle St. Ignace, and Simpson and Michipicoten islands. The shoreline is irregular (with many large bays, inlets, and peninsulas) and in places is high and rocky. The waters of Lake Superior are generally purer than those of the lower lakes and are minimally polluted; a U.S.-Canadian pact (1972) was established to prevent pollution and to maintain and improve the water's quality. Commercial and sport fishing are important; and tourism is popular in the lake area. Lake Superior is part of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway system, and it is reached by oceangoing and lake vessels through the Sault Sainte Marie Canals, which bypass rapids in the St. Marys River. The principal cargoes are grain, flour, and iron ore. The lake does not freeze completely, but ice impedes navigation from mid-December to the end of March at the lake's outlet and from early December to the end of April in harbors on the south shore. Fog and rough water are hazards. The chief Canadian cities on the lake are Michipicoten and Thunder Bay. The principal cities on the U.S. shore are Marquette, Superior, Ashland, and Duluth. Recreational facilities are found on Isle Royale (part of a U.S. national park), in Pukaskwa National Park (Ontario), and at state and provincial parks on the lake's shores and islands; the U.S. Apostle Islands and Pictured Rocks national lakeshores are there. Étienne Brulé, the French explorer, probably visited the lake in 1616; Pierre Radisson and the sieur des Groseilliers explored it in 1659–60; Father Allouez established (1665) a mission near Ashland; and the sieur Duluth visited the lake in 1678–79.

1,278 acres (518 hectares), SW S.Dak., in the Black Hills; est. 1925, dedicated 1927. There, carved on the face of the mountain and visible for 60 mi (97 km), are the enormous (60 ft/18.3 m high) heads of four U.S. presidents—Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, and Theodore Roosevelt. The sculpture was designed by Gutzon Borglum, who had even more ambitious plans for the site. These were abandoned when he died (1941), and the work was finished later that year by his son Lincoln. In all, it took 14 years to complete the figures, which during the summer are visited by more than 20,000 tourists daily. See National Parks and Monuments, table.

Sierra Nevada

Sierra Nevada, mountain range, c.400 mi/644 km long and from c.40 mi/64 km to 80 mi/129 km wide, mostly in E Calif., E side of range extends into W Nev. It rises to 14,494 ft/4,418 m in Mt. Whitney, the highest peak in the United States outside Alaska. The mts. extend NW from Tehachapi Pass SE of Bakersfield, Calif., to about the North Fork Feather R., NE of Chico. The Cascade Range continues N beyond this, and includes Lassen Peak. A tilted fault-block structure (the largest in the United States), the Sierra Nevada's E front rises sharply from the Great Basin, while its W slope descends gradually to the hills bordering the Central Valley of California. Heavy winter precipitation is economically important to the surrounding areas and to metropolitan areas; also vital to winter recreation activities, the only viable industry for 6 months a year; snow-fed streams supply irrigation water to the Central Valley and to W Nev. and also generate hydroelectric power. Water from Sierra reservoirs transported by aqueduct to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and other cities. High, rugged, and frequently snowbound in winter, the mts. are a formidable barrier to overland travel. Donner Pass (elev. 7,089 ft/2,161 m), the principal pass across the mountains, was used by thousands of California-bound gold-seekers and pioneers on the Emigrant Trail in the middle and late 1800s. The Sierra Nevada are known as popular tourist area, for their magnificent scenery (especially in the High Sierra S of L. Tahoe and in Yosemite, Sequoia, and Kings Canyon natl. parks to S) and for their year-round resorts. Ski areas. L. Tahoe, on Calif.-Nev. state line, central to Sierra Nevada tourism; gambling casinos on Nev. side.

Fox, river, United States

river, 176 mi (283 km) long, rising in S central Wis. and flowing SW to within 1.5 mi (2.4 km) of Portage, Wis., on the Wisconsin River, then NE through Lake Winnebago into Green Bay, an arm of Lake Michigan, at Green Bay, Wis.; the Wolf River is its main tributary. The cities of Appleton and Oshkosh are on the Fox. Rapids at points along the river furnish water power. The river was a well-known route used by early explorers, missionaries, and fur traders to reach the Northwest and the Mississippi River system from the Great Lakes. A barge canal links the Fox and Wisconsin rivers at Portage, forming a continuous waterway from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi River.

Directions to Dixie National Forest

From Salt Lake City: Take I-15 south, exit at Parowan. Take U-143 south to Dixie National Forest.

From Las Vegas: Take I-15 north to Cedar City. Take U-14 to Dixie National Forest.

From Mount Carmel Junction: Take US-89 north to U-14 and into Dixie National Forest.

From Arizona: Take US-89 north thru Mount Carmel Junction to U-14 and turn west to Dixie National Forest.

*U-14 is also called the Markaguant High Plateau
Scenic Byway.*

Cedar Mountain Flora

The elevation at Cedar Mountain is mid to high. The pinyon pine and juniper are common at the mid-elevations near the turn-off from US-89 to Highway 14. Traveling along Highway 14 the elevation increases quickly and the junipers and pinyon pines give way to aspen and conifers such as pine and fir.

Groves of White Barked Aspens

These groves exist throughout the Cedar Mountain area, and are abundant along Highway 14. This passage is well known for its grand show of autumn leaves in mid-October. Conifers grow among the aspens and tend to crowd them out, but beetles and fire can keep this under control, allowing the aspens to flourish. In fact, the beetle has ravished the spruce trees the last few years.

Stay in Mt. Carmel Jct., the heart of the parks, and visit the treasures of the Southwest.

Making summer memories in the Utah national parks and Utah national monuments.

Bristlecone Pines are the oldest living things on the earth.

Bristlecone Pine thrive at Cedar Breaks

The seldom seen ancient Bristlecone pines thrive on Cedar Mountain although rare in much of the rest of the state. These are not only the oldest of all trees, but are the oldest living things on the earth. The Bristlecone along this trail reach up to 4,500 years old. These old timers have adapted to living on barren slopes and cliff edges and folks hike trail just to see these magnificent old-timers. If unsure which are the ancient pines, look for pine needles in groups of five. The leaves will be one inch to one and half inches long. Bristlecone pine has a thin, smooth bark, which is grayish white on young stems. As stems age the color becomes a reddish brown and they trunks begin to twist. The cone is tipped with long bristle seeds.

Four Peaks Wilderness

In Tonto National Forest Arizona.

Four Peaks Wilderness was established in 1984, and contains approximately 60,740 acres with a major mountain rising up in its center from the desert foothills. The Four Peaks themselves are visible for many miles, and the rapid change in elevation produces interesting plant combinations. The Peaks are located in the southern end of the Mazatzal mountain range, in eastern Maricopa County and western Gila County. It lies about 20 air-miles northeast of Apache Junction, looking down on Roosevelt Reservoir to the east, and Apache Reservoir to the south.

Location: Mazatzal mountain range of Arizona

Size and Elevation: 60,740 acres, 1,600 feet to 7,657 feet

Ecosystem: Very diverse: Climbing up, desert shading to arid grassland shading to brushy thickets, to ponderosa pine and Douglas fir forest

Features: Very rugged country: ridges, gorges, and craggy summits

Activities: Hiking, Horseback Riding

Before you hit the trails, you may want to learn more about the topography, vegetation, geology, climate, wildlife, livestock regulations, water, or natural fire management. Trails

There is a network of some 40 miles of "system" trails serving the Four Peaks Wilderness and contiguous areas. Their condition varies from excellent to poor. Signs are installed at trail junctions, but unfortunately they are often damaged or stolen. Some trails (as indicated) are not suitable for horses. All trails listed below are closed to bikes of any type.

Short Trails

Cane Spring Trail - Vague trail, medium elevation description

Alder Saddle Trail - Steep climb

Lower Soldier Camp Trail - Up a sandy wash

Oak Flat Trail - Most difficult trail through chaparral covered slopes

Brown's Trail - Excellent condition, heavily travelled

Pigeon Trail - Easy trail through pine forest

Amethyst Trail - climbs almost 1,100 feet in 3 miles

Medium Trails

Soldier Camp Trail - Good views

Chillicut Trail - Steep steep steep climbs

Long Trails

Alder Creek Trail - Through transition zones

Four Peaks Trail - Lots of diversity in 10 miles

Short Trails

77 - Cane Spring Trail

2.3 miles in length. This trail is quite vague and difficult to follow. It begins 1/4 mile west of Cane Spring Trailhead and intersects with Soldier Camp Trail 83.

Lowest elevation: 2900 feet; highest elevation: 4200 feet.

Difficulty level: more difficult.

Use level: very light.

Trailhead: Cane Spring.

81 - Alder Saddle Trail

0.5 miles in length. This is a spur trail from Four Peaks Trail on the east side of Four Peaks. It climbs steeply to Alder Saddle.

Lowest elevation: 5840 feet; highest elevation: 6400 feet.

Difficulty level: more difficult.

Use level: very light.

84 - Lower Soldier Camp Trail

2.0 miles in length. After traveling up a sandywash, the trail steadily climbs a ridge east from Cottonwood Camp. The trail is very steep in some places. Provides a non-motorized alternative access to Cane Spring and Soldier Camp Trailheads.

Lowest elevation: 1900 feet; highest elevation: 3120 feet.

Difficulty level: more difficult.

Use level: light.

Trailhead: Cottonwood Camp.

123 - Oak Flat Trail

1.8 miles in length. A steep, and badly eroded trail through chaparral-covered slopes up to Four Peaks Trail 130.

Lowest elevation: 3680 feet; highest elevation: 5400 feet.

Difficulty level: most difficult.

Use level: very light.

Trailhead: Oak Flat.

133 - Brown's Trail

2.0 miles in length. This trail was constructed in 1988-89 and is in excellent condition. Grade, tread, and alignment are favorable. It joins Amethyst Trail 253 just below Brown's Saddle.

Lowest elevation: 5700 feet; highest elevation: 6760 feet.

Difficulty level: more difficult.

Use level: heavy.

Trailhead: Lone Pine Saddle.

134 - Pigeon Trail

2.0 miles in length. This is a route which was reconstructed in 1989-90 and is in good condition. The first 1/4 mile is an old jeep road to Pigeon Spring. It goes through Ponderosa Pine forest to its intersection with Four Peaks Trail 130.

Lowest elevation: 5440 feet; highest elevation: 5640 feet.

Difficulty level: easiest.

Use level: moderate.

Trailhead: Lone Pine Saddle. There is also space for a couple of vehicles at this trail's terminus with Road 648.

253 - Amethyst Trail

3.0 miles in length. From its junction with Four Peaks Trail 130, the northern half climbs steeply to Brown's Saddle. North of Brown's Saddle, Amethyst Trail is narrow following the western flanks of Four Peaks. The trail ends at the Amethyst mine.

NOTE: The Amethyst mine is private property. Permission must be received to enter this property.

Lowest elevation: 5800 feet; highest elevation: 6880 feet.

Difficulty level: more difficult.

Use level: moderate.

Medium Trails

83 - Soldier Camp Trail

8.0 miles in length. This trail traverses the western open ridges below Four Peaks. The southern half is an old jeep road. Travelers will have nice views of Four Peaks and lower desert country. The south end of the trail can be reached by hiking/riding up lower Soldier Camp Trail from Cottonwood Camp, then going northeast a short distance on Road 401 to its intersection with this trail.

Lowest elevation: 3320 feet; highest elevation: 5450 feet.

Difficulty level: more difficult.

Use level: very light.

Trailhead: Mud Spring.

132 - Chillicut Trail

7.0 miles in length. The northern 1 1/2 miles is an old jeep road. The trail has steep ascents and descents of ridges and also a steep climb to Buckhorn Mountain. It goes from the upper Sonoran Desert to Ponderosa Pine where it intersects with Four Peaks Trail 130.

Lowest elevation: 2840 feet; highest elevation: 6440 feet.

Difficulty level: most difficult.

Use level: light.

Trailhead: Rock Creek.

Long Trails

82 - Alder Creek Trail

12.0 miles in length. This trail skirts the southern slopes of Four Peaks and then follows Alder Creek to near its headwaters where it climbs to Black Bear Saddle and intersects Four Peaks Trail 130. Travelers will enjoy the transition from desert to forest. May be overgrown in some places.

Lowest elevation: 2280 feet; highest elevation: 5560 feet.

Difficulty level: most difficult.

Use level: very light.

Trailhead: Cane Spring.

130 - Four Peaks Trail

10.0 miles in length. Traverses the northern and eastern flanks of Four Peaks and then continues southwest along Buckhorn Ridge. The eastern and southern sections have steep sections and may be vague in some spots.

Park Slope

Known for: Prospect

Park is a main attraction, housing a plethora of facilities including a zoo, ice-skating rink, boathouse and band shell. On nearby streets, young, middle-class couples push baby strollers alongside funky, artistic types off to sip brunch mimosas at one of the district's fine restaurants.

Boundaries: Stretching from Prospect Park West to 4th Avenue, Park Place to Prospect Expressway.

Borders: Prospect Heights and Carroll Gardens

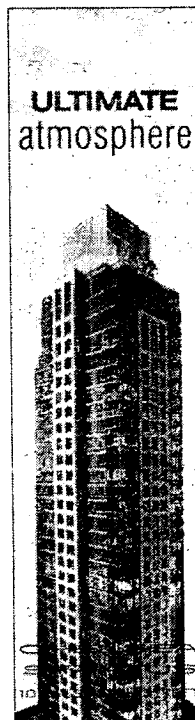

Subway stops: F to 7th Avenue

■ OUTLOOK

The basics: As the families that fed the area's nineties boom—many of them Upper West Side transplants—continue to dominate the area around the park, younger and artier refugees have settled near Fifth Avenue. Townhouses are the dwelling of choice, but the ones that hit the market tend to be fixer-uppers, and even those are no longer inexpensive. One- and two-bedroom apartments in larger buildings are relatively plentiful.

What's new: The sixteen-story Shinnecock luxury condos at Union Street, near Prospect Park, opened in 2002 and were the first new prime Slope development in decades. New buildings will also soon be popping up at President, Carroll, and 5th Streets between Fourth and Fifth Avenues—an area that wasn't even considered Park Slope ten years ago. "There's no other place to build," says Corcoran's Patricia Neinast.

Bargain hunting: Look on the fringes—the western flank close to Fifth Avenue and buildings on Flatbush.

Prediction: The Slope sure has boomed, but it probably won't go much higher, at least for now. If the market falls off its current plateau, "what will do best is anything in a prime location," says Coldwell Banker Hunt Kennedy & Garfield's Neil Stein, "and anything that's large will hold its value." More vulnerable are one-bedrooms—a luxury for singles but too small for families. On the edges, Flatbush Avenue—with abundant services and subways—might be better off than Fourth Avenue and the Gowanus hinterlands.

Bear Mountain

Bear Mountain, peak (1,284 ft/391 m high), SE N.Y., overlooking the Hudson R.; 41°19'N 74°01'W. The Bear Mt. sect. of the Palisades Interstate Park, with facilities for both summer and winter sports, is popular among N.Y. city residents. The remains of Fort Clinton, dating from the Amer. Revolution, are here. The Bear Mt. Bridge (2,257 ft/688 m long) crosses the Hudson R. near West Point. This suspension bridge was opened in 1924 and was acquired by N.Y. state in 1940.

UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE

Gallenkamp Stores Co., Los Angeles, Calif.

Act of 1946

Application August 12, 1947, Serial No. 531,105

Bridal Veil

(Statement)

Gallenkamp Stores Co., a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of California, located at Los Angeles, California, and doing business at 535 South Broadway, Los Angeles 13, California, has adopted and is using the trade-mark shown in the accompanying drawing, for HO-SIERY, in Class 39, Clothing, and presents herewith five specimens showing the trade-mark as actually used in connection with such goods, the trade-mark being applied to labels attached to the goods, and requests that the same be registered in the United States Patent Office on the Principal Register in accordance with the act of July 5, 1946.

The trade-mark was first used on June 10, 1947, and was first used in commerce among the several States of the United States which may lawfully be regulated by Congress, on June 10, 1947.

Applicant disclaims the word "Veil" separately and except as a part of the mark as shown.

(Declaration)

K. W. Crandall, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the secretary and treasurer of Gallenkamp Stores Co., the applicant named in the foregoing statement, that he believes that said corporation is the owner of the trade-mark which is in use in commerce among the several States of the United States, and that no other person, firm, corporation or association, to the best of his knowledge and belief, has the right to use such trade-mark in commerce which may lawfully be regulated by Congress either in the identical form thereof or in such near resemblance thereto as might be calculated to deceive, that the drawing and description truly represents the trade-mark sought to be registered, that the specimens show the trade-mark as actually used in connection with the goods, and that the facts set forth in the statement are true.

GALLENKAMP STORES CO.,

By K. W. CRANDALL,
Its Secretary and Treasurer.

Registered Oct. 11, 1927.

Renewed October 11, 1947 to Limoneira Company, of Santa, Paula, California, a corporation of California, Republished, under the Act of 1946, Sept. 20, 1949, by Limoneira Company, Santa Paula, Calif.

UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

LIMONEIRA COMPANY, OF SANTA PAULA, CALIFORNIA.

ACT OF FEBRUARY 20, 1905.

Application filed June 21, 1927. Serial No. 250,846.

BRIDAL VEIL

STATEMENT.

To the Commissioner of Patents:

Be it known that Limoneira Company, a corporation duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of California, domiciled and doing business at Santa Paula, California, also operating as Limoneira Co., has adopted and used the trade-mark shown in the accompanying drawing, for FRESH CITROUS FRUITS—NAMELY, ORANGES, LEMONS, AND GRAPEFRUIT—in Class 46, Foods and ingredients of foods, and presents herewith five specimens showing the trade-mark actually used by applicant upon the goods, and requests that the same be registered in the United States Patent Office in accordance with the act of February 20, 1905, as amended.

The trademark has been continuously used and applied to said goods in applicant's business since January 5, 1892.

The trademark is applied or affixed to the goods, or to the packages containing the same, by means of a label bearing the mark or by printing or impressing the same thereon in divers other ways.

The undersigned hereby appoints Albert J. Fihe, 111 West Monroe Street, Chicago, Illinois, registered attorney No. 11,633, attorney with full power of substitution and revocation, to prosecute this application, to make alterations and amendments therein, to receive the certificate, and to transact all business in the Patent Office connected therewith.

Yosemite National Park

Yosemite National Park (1,189 sq mi/3,080 sq km), Tuolumne, Mariposa, and Madera cos., E central Calif. Located in the Sierra Nevada, it is a glacier-scoured area of great beauty; Mt. Lyell (13,114 ft/3,997 m) is the highest peak. Enclosed within the park is the famed Yosemite Valley (elev. c.4,000 ft/1,200 m), surrounded by cliffs and pinnacles; Half Dome, which reaches an elev. of c.4,800 ft/1,463 m above the valley, and El Capitan, which rises perpendicularly c.3,600 ft/1,097 m above the valley, are the highest of the surrounding peaks. The world's 3 largest monoliths of exposed granite are found in the park. There are also many beautiful lakes, rivers, streams, and waterfalls, the most noted of which is Yosemite Falls, the highest in N. Amer., with a drop of 2,425 ft/739 m in 2 segments; Ribbon Falls has a 1,612 ft/491 m drop. Three groves of sequoias are within the park's limits, which also include other types of trees and more than 1,000 varieties of flowering plants. In the scenic Hetch Hetchy Reservoir in Grand Canyon of the Tuolumne, in NW center, Hetch Hetchy Aqueduct delivers from reservoir water to San Francisco. Pacific Crest Natl. Scenic Trail, including John Muir Trail, crosses NE sect. of park; Merced Grove and Tuolumne Grove giant sequoias in W, Mariposa giant sequoias (Mariposa Grove) in S; Badger Pass Ski Area in SW; Nevada Falls, Bridalveil Falls, Illilovette Falls, Yosemite Falls are all in center of park. During 1980s and 1990s Yosemite became an example of park overcrowding, with park rangers serving the same function as city police controlling traffic and crime. Est. 1890 as a result of the efforts of conservationist John Muir.

SALADO CREEK

Visitors' and Tourist Guide for Salado, Texas

Historic Salado Village

Lodging | Shopping | Dining | History | Wedding & Event Facilities

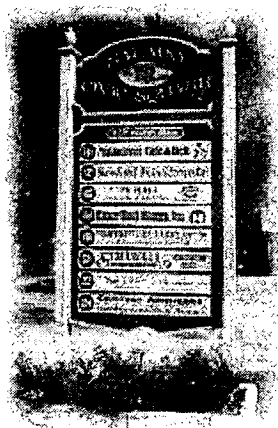

Sirena Statue in Salado Creek

Salado, Texas is an historic, tourist town that is famous for its lodging and shopping. Salado's bed and breakfast inns are some of the finest in Texas. Shopping in Salado will give you a large selection of gifts, clothing, jewelry, art, collectibles, antiques, handcrafted items and more from over 50 shops. There are over a dozen places to eat in Salado. Looking for a place to have a wedding, meeting, or an event? Salado can accomodate you in style.

The Salado Gazebo

One of the highlights of any trip to Texas is to stop off in the very popular tourist town of Salado. Located on Interstate Highway 35, Salado is on the way from Dallas or Fort Worth to Austin and San Antonio. Salado is only about 48 miles north of Austin and 18 miles south of Temple. You will find the charming village of Salado hard to resist.

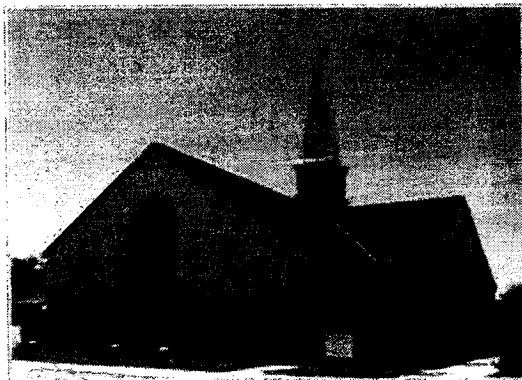

Salado has it all....

Whether you enjoy antiques, fine gift shops, beautiful countryside or a fine meal, you will be very pleased with Salado. Spend the night in one of Salado's charming bed & breakfast inns, take a stroll through the village or go wading in Salado Creek. You will enjoy the change of pace and make a few new friends, too. You are always welcome in Salado.

For lodging and shopping, Salado is a lot of fun!

Visitors enjoy touring the town of Salado, looking at the historical buildings and admiring the restored bed & breakfast inns. Salado is full of Old West history.

A church in Salado and Dodd's Creek Bridge

Salado is a small tourist village with a population of around 900 people. You will find the pace is slow and easy going. The people are friendly and you will feel very welcome in Salado. The scenery is beautiful along Salado Creek. You are invited to come on out and spend some time in this charming village.

New River

c.320 mi (510 km) long, rising in the Blue Ridge, NW N.C. It flows NE through SW Virginia, then NW into West Virginia where it joins with the Gauley River to form the Kanawha River. It is used extensively to generate electricity. Bluestone Dam (completed 1952), near Hinton, W. Va., provides flood control and power, and its reservoir extends 36 mi (58 km) upstream. The New River Bridge, built across the River Gorge, is the largest steel-arch bridge in the United States.

Welcome to our website!

The Legacy Restaurant

Welcome to the Town of Elm City's Official Website. This site is a collective effort by the Town Hall Staff. Our website will hopefully provide information about the town, your local government and the services we provide.

Elm City is located between Wilson and Rocky Mount, NC and is adjacent to US Hwy 301. Elm City's approximately 1430 southern citizens are characteristic of the phrase "Southern Living."

Incorporated, December 18, 1873, the Town of Elm City was originally called the "Town of Toisnot." Over the next 40 years the name changed from that of Toisnot to Elm City a total of three times until October 11, 1913, when it was finally agreed upon the town would be named Elm City.

JUST NORTH OF SPRAWLING LAS VEGAS IS WHERE IT ALL TAKES PLACE.

Nestled among regal mountain ranges, the Coyote Springs valley features dramatic views of jagged peaks and open sky. This setting creates a sense of insulation from the city's daily grind. Although within easy driving distance to Los Angeles, San Diego, Phoenix and Salt Lake City, Coyote Springs is self-contained. With its own businesses, town centers, parks and entertainment, this world turns in circles all its own.

Welcome to the Back Bay!

The Back Bay is one of Boston's most beautiful and walkable areas, featuring stately brownstones and spacious, shady promenades. Also one of the most desirable and fashionable neighborhoods in the city, the Back Bay is centered on Newbury and Boylston Streets, home to upscale shops, sidewalk cafes, exotic florists, hotels, art galleries and people from all corners of the world. Other major points of interest are Copley Square, the Boston Public Library, the Public Garden, John Hancock Building, the Prudential Center, Copley Place, Commonwealth Avenue, the Hynes Convention Center and the beautiful Christian Science Plaza. Many of Boston's best restaurants, hotels, shopping and night life, can be found in the Back Bay. We invite you to visit, shop and dine with members of the Back Bay Association.

The Columbia Gazetteer of North America. 2000.

Snake River

Snake River, 1,038 mi/1,670 km long, NW U.S., the chief tributary of the Columbia R.; rises in NW Wyo., in Yellowstone Natl. Park; flows through Jackson L. in Grand Teton Natl. Park, then S and W into Idaho and NW to its junction with the Henrys Fork R. The combined stream runs SW, then NW, crossing S Idaho through the Snake R. Plain; there are several notable falls. The Snake makes a bend into Oregon and turns N to form the Idaho-Oregon and Idaho-Wash. state lines (receiving several tributaries, including the Boise and Salmon rivers), then turns at Lewiston (Idaho; at the mouth of the Clearwater R.), and flows generally W to join the Columbia R. near Pasco (Wash.). Hell's Canyon, sometimes called Grand Canyon of the Snake R., is the greatest of the Snake's many gorges and one of the deepest in the world; extends c.125 mi/201 km N along the Oregon-Idaho state line; max. depth c.7,900 ft/2,408 m. The Snake was explored by the Lewis and Clark expedition (1803–1806) and was of major importance in U.S. expansion into the Pacific Northwest. The river is a major source of electricity, having numerous hydroelectric power plants. The upper and middle courses of the Snake and its tributaries are much used for irrigation by private projects (one of the most notable being at Twin Falls) and by projects of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, including the Minidoka, Boise, Palisades, and Owyhee projects. Four navigation and hydroelectric power projects along the lower Snake provide slack water navigation from the mouth of the Snake 140 mi/225 km upstream to Lewiston, Idaho. The projects are linked with the navigation system on the Columbia R., which extends 342 mi/550 km to the Pacific Ocean from its confluence with the Snake. Formerly called the Lewis R.

The Columbia Gazetteer of North America. 2000.

Snake River Plain

Snake River Plain, S Idaho, crescent-shaped lava tableland (elev. c.3,000 ft/914 m–5,000 ft/1,524 m) traversed by Snake R., from Wash. to Wyo. state line, mainly N of river; separates Northern Rocky Mts. (N) from the Great Basin and Middle Rocky Mts. (S). Irrigation has made parts of it cultivable, esp. near river, where most of Idaho's famous potato crop is grown (also sugar beets, fruit, vegetables). Broad central part of plain, N of river, has aquifer which carries water from Big and Little Lost rivers, 100 mi/161 km WSW to Thousand Springs, on Snake R.

Saranac Lake

Saranac Lake, village (3 sq mi/7.8 sq km; 1990 pop. 5,377), Essex and Franklin cos., N N.Y., in the Adirondacks; 44°19'N 74°07'W. Situated on either side of Flower L., a 2-mi/3.2-km extension of Osetah L., S of the village; both lakes are in reality enlarged portions of the Saranac R. channel. Settled c.1819 as a lumbering town, inc. 1892. It is a year-round resort community; tourism is the main industry. It developed as a health center after Edward L. Trudeau founded a tuberculosis sanatorium here in 1884 (it closed in 1954). North Country Community Col. is in the village, which has noted skiing facilities.

Discover the North State...

Snowcapped Mt. Shasta with all its grandeur towering high in the blue sky stands alone and massive in size, isolating itself from the rugged peaks that surround it like a lonely pyramid in the desert. As it rises 14,162 feet above sea level, it can easily be seen for more than 100 miles when you're traveling on any highway leading from Shasta County into Siskiyou County. The northern approach up the Sacramento River Canyon, on the winding stretch of Interstate 5, offers tantalizing glimpses through the gaps in the canyon's walls, and then suddenly the Mountain materializes into full view as you drive up from the canyon floor.

California's Sacramento Valley begins in Redding and stretches downward until it merges with the San Joaquin Valley. From Redding and just about any area in the North State, Mt. Lassen rises 10,457 feet above sea level and dominates the region's seven national forests. With several state parks, Lassen Volcanic National Park, the Trinity Alps and the California Coastal range, it's no wonder why this area is sometimes called "Gods Country's" or a "Recreation Paradise". With common names such as the Cascade Region, The North State, and Jefferson Territory, it's most often just referred to as the Mount Shasta Region.

Before the days of automobiles and highways, the pioneers traveled to to the North State either on foot or horseback. John Muir, nature writer and avid outdoorsman, spent a lot of time in the late 1800s exploring our beautiful mountain and its surrounding area. The following quotation describes how he felt and what he saw when he had his first glimpse of Mt. Shasta in 1874.

"When I first caught sight of it [Mount Shasta] over the braided folds of the Sacramento Valley I was fifty miles away and afoot, alone and weary. Yet all my blood turned to wine, and I have not been weary since." John Muir

Yellowstone National Park

Yellowstone National Park (3,468 sq mi/8,982 km), world's 1st natl. park (est. 1872), Park and Teton cos., NW Wyo., extending into Gallatin and Park cos., Montana and Fremont co., Idaho. (Formerly independent of any co., and counted as 3 co. equivalents, one for each state, by Census Bureau, park was absorbed by adjacent cos. during 1970s.) It lies mainly on a volcanically active basin in the Rocky Mts., crossed by the Continental Divide in SW, c.8,000 ft/2,438 m above sea level, surrounded by mountains from 10,000 ft/3,048 m to 14,000 ft/4,267 m high. The basin lies within center and SW parts of park; remainder is mountainous. Most of the plateau is formed from once-molten lava; volcanic activity is still evidenced by nearly 10,000 hot springs, 200 geysers, and many vents and hot-mud pots. The more prominent geysers are unequaled in size, power, and variety of action. Old Faithful, the best known although not the largest geyser, erupted at an average interval of 64.5 mins. prior to 1959 earthquake; current (1995) interval is c.74 min., 21–23 times per day; shoots c.11,000 gals/41,640 liters of water some 150 ft/46 m high. Mammoth Hot Springs, a series of 5 terraces with reflecting pools, continues to grow, as residue from the mineral-rich steaming water is deposited. The park's other natural wonders include petrified forests, lava formations, and the "black glass" Obsidian Cliff. Eagle Peak (11,358 ft/3,462 m), on park's E boundary, is the highest point in the park. Yellowstone L. (137 sq mi/355 sq km; largest natural lake in Wyo., 110 mi/177 km shoreline), the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone, and 41 waterfalls, most notably Yellowstone Falls (lower 308 ft/94 m high, upper 109 ft/33 m high), are on the Yellowstone R., which crosses the park. A wide variety of flowers and other plant life can be found here. Bears, mountain sheep, elk, bison, moose, many smaller animals, and more than 200 kinds of birds inhabit the park, one of the world's largest wildlife sanctuaries. Until the late 1980s evergreen forests covered almost 90% of the park; however, massive fires in 1988 destroyed much of the area and its forestation.

Yellowstone River

Yellowstone River, 671 mi/1,080 km long; rises at Younts Peak (12,165 ft/3,708 m) at Continental Divide, SW Park co., in NW Wyo.; flows N then generally NE through Mont. to enter the Missouri R. in far W N.Dak. The river drains c.70,400 sq mi/182,336 sq km. It receives the Bighorn, Powder, Tongue, and many smaller rivers. The river flows through Yellowstone Natl. Park in NW Wyoming S to N. There, the river feeds and drains Yellowstone L., the largest high-alt. (elev. 7,731 ft/2,356 m) lake in N. Amer. After leaving the lake, the river drops at Yellowstone Falls, 109 ft/33 m at the Upper Falls, then 308 ft/94 m at the Lower Falls, before entering the deep and spectacular Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone (19 mi/31 km long); Tower Falls, 132 ft/40 m high, is at the N end of the canyon. The river's waters in Mont. have been used for irrigation since the late 1860s. In Mont., the river flows N, then turns ENE at Livingston, flowing past Billings, Miles City, Glendive, and Sidney, before entering W N.Dak., where it continues c.15 mi/24 km before entering the Missouri R. in the upper reach of L. Sakakawea Reservoir (Garrison Dam). The lower 20 mi/32 km of Yellowstone R. is a narrow arm of the reservoir. There are no major dams or reservoirs on the river itself. The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation operates several projects on the Yellowstone that are used for irrigation, flood control, power production, and recreation. These include the Huntley project near Billings, Mont., the Buffalo Rapids project near Glendive, Mont., and the Savage unit of the Missouri R. basin project.

The Colorado Milling & Elevator Co., doing business under the style name of St. Anthony Flour Mills, Denver, Colo.

Act of 1946

Application August 31, 1948, Serial No. 564,436

STATEMENT

The Colorado Milling & Elevator Co., a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Colorado, and having its principal office and place of business at 621 Equitable Building, Denver County, Denver, Colorado, and doing business under the style name of St. Anthony Flour Mills, and has adopted and is using the trade-mark shown in the accompanying drawing, for WHEAT FLOUR, in Class 46, Foods and ingredients of foods, and presents herewith five specimens showing the trade-mark as actually used in connection with such goods, the trade-mark being applied to the containers of the goods, and requests that the same be registered in the United States Patent Office on the Principal Register and under section 2(f), in accordance with the act of July 5, 1946, for the goods stated above for the area comprising Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, and Louisiana.

The mark is claimed to have become distinctive of applicant's goods in commerce which may lawfully be regulated by Congress through substantially exclusive and continuous use thereof as a mark by the applicant in commerce among the several States namely, Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, and Louisiana, which may lawfully be regulated by Congress for the five years next preceding the date of the filing of this application.

The trade-mark was first used in March 1909, and first used in commerce among the several States which may lawfully be regulated by Congress in March 1909.

Applicant is owner of Registration No. 179,401, issued February 5, 1924, and now expired.

Applicant disclaims exclusive use of the word "Special" per se, and apart from the mark.

The following exceptions to applicant's claim of exclusive use is specified: By Van Dusen Harrington Co., also known as King Midas Mill Company, also known as King Midas Flour Mills, located and doing business at Minneapolis, Minnesota, and using the mark "Yellowstone" and design, application Serial No. 547,799, filed January 22, 1948, in connection with wheat flour, the mark being used by affixing same to the containers of the goods, in the territory embracing the States of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Florida, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Maine, since 1906.

Van Dusen Harrington Co., Minneapolis, Minn., operating through a division known as King
Midas Flour Mills

Act of 1946

Application January 22, 1948, Serial No. 547,799

STATEMENT

Van Dusen Harrington Co. (by change of name from King Midas Mill Company), a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Minnesota, located at Minneapolis, in the county of Hennepin, and State of Minnesota, doing business at 713 Grain Exchange Building, Minneapolis, Minnesota, and operating through a division known as King Midas Flour Mills, has adopted and is using the trade-mark shown in the accompanying drawing, for WHEAT FLOUR, in Class 46, Foods and ingredients of foods; and presents herewith five specimens showing the trade-mark as actually used in connection with such goods, the trade-mark being applied to such goods, and requests that the same be registered in the United States Patent Office on the Principal Register in accordance with the act of July 5, 1946, for the area comprising the States of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Florida, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Maine.

The trade-mark was first used by applicant's predecessor Shane Brothers Company (a corporation) in 1906, and first used on such products in commerce among the several States which may lawfully be regulated by Congress in 1906.

The trade-mark is applied or affixed to the goods by printing the mark on the sacks in which the flour is sold.

The drawing is lined to indicate colors but no claim is made to coloring as an essential characteristic of the mark.

The following exception to applicant's claim of exclusive use is specified: By The Colorado Milling & Elevator Co., located and doing business at Denver, Colorado, and using the mark "Yellowstone Special" and design, as shown in application Serial No. 564,436, filed August 31, 1948, in connection with wheat flour, the mark being used by affixing the same to the sacks or containers in which the flour is sold, in the territory embracing the States of Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Arizona, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Iowa, Arkansas, Missouri, and Louisiana, since March 1909.

UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE

TAYLOR & WILLIAMS, INCORPORATED, OF LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY

ACT OF FEBRUARY 20, 1905

Application filed September 26, 1930. Serial No. 306,111.

STATEMENT

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that Taylor & Williams, Incorporated, a corporation duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Kentucky, and located in Louisville, in the county of Jefferson and State of Kentucky, and doing business at No. 302 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, has adopted and used the trade-mark shown in the accompanying drawing, for WHISKEY, in Class 49, Distilled alcoholic liquors.

The trade-mark has been continuously used in the business of said corporation and by those from whom title is derived, since November, 1878, and the trade-mark has been in actual use in the United States as a trade-mark of applicant and applicant's predecessors from whom title is derived, for ten years next preceding February 20, 1905, and that to the best of applicant's knowledge and belief, such use has been exclusive.

The trade-mark is affixed to the containers of the goods by means of a printed label on which the trade-mark is shown.

The undersigned presents herewith a drawing and five specimens of its trade-mark, and requests that the same may be registered in the United States Patent Office in accordance with the act of February 20, 1905 (as amended); and it hereby appoints Orson D. Munn, T. Hart Anderson, Lester A. Stanley, Samuel W. Foster and Sylvester J. Liddy, constituting the firm of Munn & Co. (Reg. No. 77), of the cities of New York, N. Y., Washington, D. C., Chicago, Ill., San Francisco, Calif., and Los Angeles, Calif., or accredited agents, its attorneys, to prosecute this application and to make all such alterations and amendments therein as may be required, and to sign the drawing and to receive the certificate when issued.

Adirondack Mountains

Adirondack Mountains, mt. massif, N N.Y., bet. the St. Lawrence valley in the N, L. Champlain lowland in the E, the Mohawk valley in the S, and Block R. valley in the W. Rises to 5,344 ft/1,629 m at Mt. Marcy, the highest point in the state. Geologically a S extension of the Laurentian upland of Canada, the Adirondacks are sometimes mistakenly included in the Appalachian system. Composed chiefly of metamorphic rock, the Adirondacks were formed as pre-Cambrian igneous rocks (mainly granite) intruded upward, doming the earth's surface; subsequent faulting of the earth's crust and surface erosion have given the mts. a rugged topography. High Peaks sect. in NE part of S massif, largely in Clinton, Essex, and Warrens. The Pleistocene glaciers disrupted the earlier drainage patterns, creating numerous lakes. In the 1980s it was discovered that many of the region's lakes were unable to support life due to damage caused by acid rain. The Hudson, Ausable, and Black rivers, among many others, rise in the Adirondacks. The region is a year-round sports, recreation, and resort area; most of it has been set aside as Adirondack State Park. Within the boundaries of the park are 9,375 sq mi/24,281 sq km of public and private land, making it the largest park in the nation (larger than the combined area of the Grand Canyon, Yellowstone, and Glacier natl. parks). L. Placid and L. George are major resort centers. Lumbering declined after a forest preserve was established in 1892, but is still very important in the regional economy. Important mineral prods. include zinc, titanium, and talc.

FISCHEL PAPER CO., INC., OF ALBANY, NEW YORK.

TRADE-MARK FOR BOND, LEDGER, BOOK, COVER, AND WRITING PAPER.

ACT OF FEBRUARY 20, 1905.

153,442.

Registered Mar. 21, 1922.

Application filed June 17, 1921. Serial No. 149,277.

STATEMENT.

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that FISCHEL PAPER CO., INC., a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of New York, and having its principal office at Albany, in the county of Albany and State of New York, has adopted and used the trade-mark shown in the accompanying drawing, for bond, ledger, book, cover, and writing paper, in Class No. 37, Paper and stationery.

The trade-mark has been used continuously in the business of said corporation since July 19, 1920.

The trade-mark is displayed on the goods by water-marking thereon, and it is applied or affixed to the goods and to the packages containing the same by placing thereon a label on which the trade-mark is shown.

FISCHEL PAPER CO., INC.,
By EDGAR L. POTTER,
Secretary.

ADIRONDACK

DECLARATION.

State of New York, county of Albany, ss:

EDGAR L. POTTER, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the secretary of the corporation, the applicant named in the foregoing statement; that he believes the foregoing statement is true; that he believes said corporation is the owner of the trade-mark sought to be registered; that no other person, firm, corporation, or association, to the best of his knowledge and belief, has the right to use said trade-mark in the United States, either in the identical form or in any such near resemblance thereto as might be calculated to deceive; that said trademark is used by said corporation in commerce among the several States of the United States; that the description and drawing presented truly represent the trade-mark sought to be registered; and that the specimens show the trade-mark as actually used upon the goods.

EDGAR L. POTTER.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, a notary public, this 13 day of June, 1921.

[L. s.]

HARVEY M. EARING.
